

Delivering virtualisation 66% faster whilst fixing cost, time and mitigating risk

Icoda is an IP driven consulting services business. We help clients' transition to the benefits of a consolidated and virtual infrastructure across operations, server, storage and desktop.

RECOGNISED TRENDS IN VIRTUALISATION

Virtualisation as a concept is being adopted by most organisations as the benefits are widely recognised. However, a trend is emerging which results in unrealised benefits and poor perception. The primary areas for concern are an unrealistic business case, cost creep due to extended project durations, behavioural and political challenges, and a lack of operational maturity.

ECONOMIC DOWN TURN AND VIRTUALISATION

The economic downturn has shrunk and IT budgets and focus have changed. Whilst virtualisation does provide the key to cost reduction initiative, these barriers are precluding customers from adopting virtualisation or impacting their ability to attain the benefits. Critically, those who have invested risk the erosion of the savings through poor visibility of the return the investment is delivering.

Adoption

Build a realistic business case supported by a roadmap based approach for incremental investment and return

HOW IS THIS BEING ADDRESSED

With this in mind Icoda is drawing on over a decade of experience in consolidating infrastructure coupled with our extensive software based intellectual property to help customers meet their objectives. We're helping customers in all three phases of the journey to virtualisation: Adoption, Transition, and Optimisation to ensure the necessary capability and governance exists to rapidly meet your objectives.

Transition

Accelerate the time to the benefits in less than half the time whilst fixing project costs and time

Optimisation

Ensure you are realising the expected returns and where possible look to extend the benefits

WILL YOU GET THE RETURN? CAN YOU FIX PROJECT COSTS & REDUCE THE TIME TO BENEFIT?

If you've identified virtualisation as an opportunity to meet your cost reduction and service goals, then take advantage of a complementary workshop to draw on Icoda's capability to aid you in validating your thinking or to provide valuable insight into how to rapidly gain the return from virtualisation?
